1. The agent did not properly evaluate the information furnished by this agent and did not transmit it to his Headquarters, because he thought the information was deceptive material passed by the KGB (possibly in connection with the "Germans"). In June/53 MOORUSKO met this agent in East Berlin. The agent was arrested during the meeting with the help of the East German police and was taken to Warsaw. The agent was interrogated on the premises of the KGB in Warsaw and was asked to furnish exact info on the extent of the information. After a month's stay in Poland it was on longer possible to send him back to Germany. His interrogations continued for more than a year. He visited all the offices of the KGB both now engaged in active collection and those engaged in CE.

brought before the court be posed as a Nazi and did not reveal his contacts with the KKP because he thought that the Poles did not have the right to judge him. He was sentenced to death but this sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment. This agent was released in 1956 but the source does not know what happened to him afterwards. As a result of this affair, RUCSINK's connection to the KKP was broken off.

ROZIMONT is known to our Services for having belonged during the period November 1941 - September 1944 to the personnel of the Polish Embassy in Paris with the rank of Second Secretary. Actually he was the "President" of the PIS and extremely active in handling various agents located in France.
